Animal: dogs

Link to Amazon Wish List

Other things to share: I love sports. I still play soccer in my spare time. I love to travel, which mostly consists of me driving places. I love to take my dogs on vacation when I'm able. I enjoy time with family and friends. Quality time with people is more important than anything. I have 2 nieces and 2 nephews. They have moved around a lot due to my brother being in the military, but it is nice to finally be in the same area together. Sometimes I get in moods where I love to color in coloring books or do puzzles. One of my favorite things to do when I visit my friends in Texas is to line dance and Texas 2 Step.

Thank you so much for your generosity. Your love and support is greatly appreciated. Thank you for taking the time to think about sharing this gift with me. Words cannot express how much it means to me. Have a blessed day!

Bucket list travel destinations: Alaska, Australia, an African safari, Antarctica, any peaceful beach. Honestly, there are so many places to see. I'd travel just about anywhere.

Other things to share: I love snail mail - we send cards to the homebound, postcards to students, etc. We could always use postcard or forever stamps. If you have a thrivent action team you aren't going to use, I'd be happy to talk to you about doing one to get some stamps for these projects. Thanks for considering.

Teaching is such a blessing. I am incredibly blessed to teach at Green Park. I am so touched by your kindness. Thank you for thinking of me.

Things I do not want or need: No cups or mugs please. I have too many!

Other things to share: I have three kids and am surrounded by loud boys all the time! (I promise I love them very much though.) I enjoy quiet time where I can get a bit of space from them either by myself or with my husband.

I appreciate any and all gifts whether homemade, purchased or even just a note of appreciation from parents, students or coworkers. Knowing I have made a difference in someway or brightened someone's day, is always a wonderful treat to be made aware of.
